Pentecost and the Beginning of the Church

The day of Pentecost came fifty days after the resurrection of Jesus. As the Apostles were all gathered in one place praying, a marvelous event occurred. There was a sound like the sound of a strong wind roaring through the place and then what appeared to be tongues of fire fell from heaven and rested on each of the Apostles. Can you imagine ordinary men, fishermen, and laborers, suddenly being able to speak in all the languages of the world and to be understood? That is what happened on Pentecost. In fact, this was so unusual that the whole city soon knew about it and the people flocked to hear them. The Holy Spirit speaks a universal language. The Apostles receiving the Holy Spirit and then being able to go out and speak in different languages, means that the Word can reach everyone and is for everyone, man cannot get in the way. Pentecost was the beginning of the Church and its public ministry. It is up to each of us to continue this tradition through all of our work in the Church life.

Did You Know?

Just like the Apostles, we are all called to continue growing the Church and spreading the Word. We see this with every Churching, Baptism, Chrismation, and Wedding. This is also seen with the several missions that are established throughout the world.
